COURSEWORK AND NON-EXAMINATION ASSESSMENT POLICY

Revised by the Examinations Officer November 2017

THIS POLICY IS PUBLISHED ON THE SCHOOL WEBSITE FOR PARENTS

Objective

The aim of this policy is to clearly set how coursework and non-examination assessments will be carried out.

All pupils also sit iGCSE subjects with coursework in English Language, English Literature, Design Technology, Geography, History, French, German and Spanish. All pupils sit GCSE subjects requiring non-examination assessment in Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Art, Photography, PE, Drama and Music. Mathematics and Religious Studies have no non-examination assessment or coursework element with results based purely on the final examination papers.

IGCSE Coursework

English

Whilst English and English Literature Coursework assignments are not non-examination assessments there are clear guidelines from the IGCSE board as to how to conduct coursework. Pupils will create the first draft of English and English Literature coursework in class. Pupils are able to use a dictionary and thesaurus in the preparation of their coursework. In accordance with the CIE regulations all candidates will use computers to produce their coursework. Teachers will keep a paper copy of the first draft on file and will give pupils feedback on this. Pupils are encouraged to revise, edit and correct their work. Teachers will give verbal advice and discuss with pupils how to improve their work. Teachers will highlight errors but not tell pupils how to correct the error. For example sp (spelling) can be put in the margin but the pupil will have to look up the correct spelling. Any revisions that pupils make to the coursework must be their own work. The second draft or final draft may be set as homework but these drafts will be checked by teachers against the original draft written in class to ensure authenticity. There is a hard paper copy kept by staff of draft one done entirely in class under the close supervision of the teacher. The teacher can monitor use of the internet and any other notes. Any improvements on draft two (made in response to teacher targets on draft one) can be checked against the hard copy of draft one (photocopied and held by the teacher) The teacher can quickly spot a change of writing style, a change of sentence construction and punctuation and a dramatic change in content.

IGCSE Coursework

Other subjects

Coursework sessions may be undertaken in class and also set as homework. It is important that any work completed is that of the individual pupil. If any other source or reference is used it must be referenced appropriately.

Non-Examination Assessment overview

What are non-examination assessments?

“Non-examination assessments measure subject-specific knowledge and skills that cannot be tested by timed written papers.

There are three assessment stages and rules which apply to each stage. These rules often vary across subjects. The stages are:

- task setting;
 - task taking;
 - task marking.”
- [NEA 1]
