

LEE Hurst Swan School

A Centenary History

JANE HOWELLS

Shire Publications ISBN 978 0 74781 304 0 2013 £7.99 210 x 150mm 64pp Softback

The first school at Leehurst in Campbell Road, Salisbury, run by the Sisters of Christian Education, was opened in May 1914. In 1953 the school was taken over by the Sisters of La Retraite who were here until 2005. Meanwhile, in the early 1930s Miss E N Swanton had begun her school for boys, first in the city centre, and from 1963 at Elm Grove. In 1996 the merger took place, and since 2002 this has been a co-educational independent school, taking the name Leehurst Swan School in 2007.

This book traces the fascinating history of the school using memories from staff and students as well as historical records. It is generously illustrated with archive images and modern photographs. There are chapters on Leehurst Convent 1914-1953, the Swan School from the 1930s to the 1990s, La Retraite 1953-1996, and the co-educational school to the present day. The Headmaster Roger Leake has contributed the introduction and a conclusion that looks forward to the next stage in the history of Leehurst Swan School.
